Old Lady Severely Burned.

Mrs. Kiser, widow of the late Peter Kiser, living south of town, while lifting a pot of hot coffee off the stove last Saturday morning slipped and fell and was dreadfully scalded by the contents of the coffee pot which splashed over both arms, chest and face. Dr. Leix was summoned and soon relieved the suffering woman. Mrs. Kiser, who is a pioneer resident of this valley, is very old and feeble, but for all that was getting along fairly well at latest accounts, notwithstanding the frightful scalding she was subjected to.

Runaway Accident.

While Miss A. Dowdall of El Verano was driving into town in a one-horse rig with Mr. and Mrs. P. Roma of San Francisco, last Monday afternoon, the horse became frightened at a passing automobile. The rig became cramped and tipped over, throwing the occupants violently to the ground. Miss Dowdall had her hip dislocated and Mr. and Mrs. Roma suffered numerous bruises and lacerations. The injured were attended to by Dr. Thompson.

Mrs. Marguerite Mouyer Passes Away.

Mrs. Marguerite Mouyer, wife of Louis Mouyer of El Verano, passed away at her home in that place last Saturday after a long illness. The deceased is survived by her husband and an only son, Leon L. Mouyer. She was a native of France and aged 43 years and eight months.

The funeral took place Tuesday from Bates' undertaking parlors in this city. There were funeral services in St. Francis Church, after which the remains were followed to their last resting place in Mountain Cemetery by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

A Peculiar Case of Appendicitis

The Press Democrat of the 9th inst. says a peculiar case of appendicitis was treated in the Red Cross Hospital in that city. The name of the patient is A. Ferras, a block-maker from Rincon Valley, and the surgeons who performed the operation are Drs. Bacigalupi, Hamlin and Rohr. Within the appendix was found a tiny piece of basalt rock, which had petrified and almost totally destroyed the organ.

The locality was highly inflamed and the man could have lived but a few hours. The removal of the appendix relieved the patient and he will recover. The case might be called "blockmakers' appendicitis."

Miss Amy Rowe, a milliner of 7 years experience, has arranged to take charge of the hat trimming department at G. H. Hotz's store. Bring in your hat and have it made new. G. H. Hotz.

A competent woman wishes house work and cooking. Address Miss Smith, P. O. Box 133, Sonoma.

Death of a Pioneer Resident.

There died in this city Tuesday, Bartolomeo Maggetti, who had resided here continuously for the last forty-two years. The old gentleman had reached the advanced age of 77 years. He had a small farm in the southern suburbs of town where he had lived in a frugal way all these years. He leaves a widow, and a son, Robert Maggetti of Los Angeles, who was present at the funeral yesterday. The deceased was a native of Switzerland but had been a naturalized citizen of the United States for many years.

Mass was said by Father Comerford in St. Francis Church for the repose of his soul at 10 a. m. yesterday, after which the remains of the old man were borne reverently to his last resting place in the quaint little Catholic churchyard of this city.

BADLY KICKED BY FRACTIOUS HORSE.

Foreman J. McDaniels of the Rosser Ranch Has His Right Leg Frightfully Fractured

Mr. J. A. McDaniels, residing on the Rosser ranch, three miles south of town, was kicked by a fractious horse last Saturday and his right leg between the ankle and the knee was frightfully shattered by the hoofs of the animal. Both bones of the limb were broken and protruded through the flesh and the injured man lost a large amount of blood before Dr. Leix, who had been hurriedly summoned by phone to the scene of the accident which happened on the ranch. He set the fractured bones and had the patient removed to San Francisco. Dr. Frances Leix accompanied the injured man to the metropolis for consultation, when the fragments of bones were removed and the broken parts wired together.

At latest accounts Mr. McDaniels was resting easy and barring blood poisoning is on a fair way to recovery.

Giants Again Defeated by Oakwoods.

In an exciting game of baseball played Sunday between the Oakwoods of Fruitvale and the Sonoma Giants, the former won in a close score of 7 to 8.

The visiting team showed a good deal of "class" up to the sixth inning when they evidently lost their heads, for our local nine commenced "to do things" in great shape after that, scoring six of their seven points in the last three innings. "O you Oakwoods we'll get you yet."

GOOD ROADS AND THE FARMER WHO REASONED.

In these days of agitation for good wagon roads among our farmers and the hue and cry set up by the politicians against the railroads and the other industries of our country that do things, the following on good roads, which we clip from an exchange, will no doubt commend itself to those of our readers who think for themselves instead of allowing others to do their thinking for them:

"Every farmer who don't give some time, thought and work to the improvement of wagon-roads is surely standing in his own light. Bad roads are one of the causes of the cost of living that we are always harping about. We farmers still drag our produce to market over bad roads at the same old cost of forty years ago while the storekeeper, the factory-man and every one else are making every improvement they can to reduce the cost of hauling."

In these words, a plain California farmer, concluded his story of his conversion to the "good roads" agitation.

"With prices sky high," said Hawkins in his characteristic style, "I started to town one day along in the worst part of the last rainy season with a bunch of hogs, a tub of butter and a case of eggs. The whole outfit weighed only 1,500 pounds, which was all I could haul on account of the bad roads. If the roads had been hard and level I could have pulled a ton and a half just as well as not with no more expense to myself than for half the load. Figuring the ten-mile haul, which took me the best part of the working day, at $3.50 for the team, wagon and driver, I found that it was costing me about 46 cents a ton for every mile I hauled the 1,500 pounds of live stock and produce. I was going to trade in town. I never figured on the cost of hauling to town before and I tell you I was some surprised at what I found out."

"Naturally I got to figuring that if a railroad charged 46 cents for hauling a ton of stuff one mile I couldn't afford to eat anything but hay."

"I hadn't done figuring when I reached town, so when I had unloaded my hogs, butter and eggs and finished trading I walked to the railroad station and got to talking with the station agent about the cost of hauling. I told him how much it cost me to drag my farm products into town and then switched him around to what the railroad charged for hauling. He pulled off the shelf the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission and showed me, over the signatures of all the men who regulate the railroads, a statement that the average rate paid to a railroad for hauling a load of stuff one mile was ONLY THREE-QUARTERS OF A CENT."

"When I set these figures alongside of the FORTY-SIX CENTS A TON it had cost me to haul those hogs, butter and eggs over every one of the ten miles of old, muddy dirt roads I began to think we farmers are furnishing more than our share of the high cost of living that we complain so much about in a political campaign. I saw it plainer when I thought of the things we have to buy in town and made out that we are paying for just such waste as I piled up for fellows who ate my hogs, butter and eggs at the other end of the line."

"On the other hand I figured that with improved wagon roads, such as I have read about in the papers from my old State of Pennsylvania, I could have hauled three tons instead of just one quarter that much and saved for an extra profit margin on that one load about $2.62. I guess that goes a long way toward proving that if I lived on a hard wagon road I could undersell the farmer who didn't. You see the farmer is a producer and all his costs have to be taken care of before the jobber or the storekeeper can begin to pile up their costs."

"The station agent figured out for me that the railroad would have CHARGED LESS THAN SIX CENTS for hauling 1,500 pounds of hogs, butter and eggs THE WHOLE TEN MILES. That brought home the fact that the railroad company would have hauled MY WAGON LOAD OVER 583 MILES for the $3.50 it cost me to haul it to town."

"In trying to make out how the railroad could haul so cheap the agent told me the railroad company had done it by bringing farmers like me to work the land along the line. The more that came, he said, the lower the rate that could be charged because the larger the business between small towns the better equipment that could be furnished to haul the goods faster and with less expense."

"After I had figured all this out so I understood it the agent gave me the rates on some goods I had bought in town and then I went over to the storekeeper who is always complaining about high railroad rates when I asked him why I have to pay so much more for food and clothes than I used to. He told me the same thing again and I told him that I didn't want to hear any more of his argument because I had been looking into these things on my own hook. Then I figured out to him the rates he had to pay the railroad on some of the goods I had bought and showed him that it didn't amount to more than half a cent on the dollar. He looked pretty queer when I got through. Finally in order to squirm out of the hole I had pushed him into he said the railroads didn't have much to do with the cost of grub and clothes but it had to be laid onto something and railroads were the easiest because not very many people knew anything about railroad rates and the rest didn't care to find out."

"I guess I used up considerable time that evening but I'm glad of it because I'm convinced that we farmers along with a lot of other people have been setting up scare-crows just to knock down. I calculate we could do a whole lot more by chopping down our own costs—mainly that of hauling—by good roads than harping all the time about railroad rates. Digging at the railroads isn't going to cut more than a couple of cents off a barrel of potatoes or a suit of Sunday clothes because they don't get much more than that for hauling them clean across the country, and I guess the railroads are not in business for their health any more than we are."

CIVIC PRIDE.

THE Sonoma Woman's Club has done itself proud. By concert of action on the part of its members, who are imbued with a remarkable spirit of civic pride that might well be emulated by other communities, this little band of heroic workers, and there are no drones among them, raised nearly $500 on the Fourth of July for the benefit of the Carnegie library building, which is destined to occupy a commanding site on Sonoma's historical Plaza. Not only did they accomplish this but gave to the thousands who were in town that day a splendid celebration.

This latest achievement of our local club women, we opine, is only the commencement of the end. All hail we say to the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, which has done things, is still doing things and will continue to do things.

A Genuine Sale.

A. L. Phillips of "The Wardrobe," Petaluma, advertises on the first page of this issue his semi-annual clearance sale, which began last Monday. This is a genuine sale of men's, boys' and children's furnishings goods and hats. We guarantee this because we know. Every suit in the house will be marked down specially low to make room for a Fall line of goods. Mr. Phillips has been doing this for years and will do just what he says he will do in his ad.

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

VINEBURG NEWS AND PERSONALS

"Easy Jim" Tells of the Week's Happenings in His Section

Miss Mary Batto was the guest of El Verano friends on Saturday last.

Mr. Anderson, our pioneer blacksmith, has moved his family into a cozy little home.

Charles Groskopf was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gericke and family at Alta Vista on last Sunday.

The black-boards, desks, etc., for the new school house have arrived and have been delivered.
Work on the school house is progressing nicely.

Fred Batto made a business trip to the metropolis on Monday. We can always tell that by looking at the loaded cars on "Batto's Spur"
the next day.

Misses Vivian Hunter and Edith Adams, after spending a pleasant vacation at the "Knoll," returned to their Fruitvale homes on the Saturday afternoon train.

Dr. A. P. Matsen of San Francisco was a visitor to his country home on Sunday last. The doctor started on a deer hunting trip Monday. He will be gone three weeks.

The weather at the present time is all that could be desired and the folks who are spending their summer vacation in this part of the valley are certainly enjoying themselves.

Mrs. Fairbanks, a well-known lady resident on the Baker tract near here was a passenger on the south-bound train on Saturday afternoon to the bay city on a visit to friends.

Mr. John Batto, Arthur Batto and Harry Andrieux, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Batto, baby Evelyn and Miss Mary Batto, enjoyed an auto ride to Napa last Sunday afternoon.

Frank Matsuyama, who has been engaged in the poultry business for some time, has sold out and will now devote his attention to drying fruit. He has rented the Wall-man dryer on Broadway.

Messrs. John Picetti and James Maffei, two leading young merchants of Sonoma, were visitors to this burg last Sunday. No, gents, those ladies do not live on Goo Goo avenue. They reside on Starlight Way.

In Vineburg lives a blacksmith,
Jack Murray,
Who can shoe a horse or build a scurry;
And his work is so neat when he has it complete,
And he never pretends for to worry.

Quite a flutter of excitement was caused the other day in this burg.
It happened this way. His Honor, the Mayor, was burning grass around the "Old Homestead" when his whiskers became ignited. A dinner bell was rung and chief-engineer August Rouquie turned his spray pump loose and saved the day. "Viola Vineburg" is now writing a song called "What's the Burg Without his Whiskers."

The Alta Mira social and sewing club attended a reception at the residence of Mrs. Fred Dobbel on Wednesday afternoon. The guest of honor was Miss Ethel Hampton of San Francisco, and the following ladies greatly enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Dobbel: Mesdames E. Cutter, J. C. Bruns, J. P. Engelund, C. La Torres, F. Studley, R.
Rasmussen, E. Paulson, A. Greg-rich, Harry Hunter, Meyer and Dannemark. Last, but not least, pretty Miss Dorothy Dobbel.

We find among our daily mail
the following letter:

Vineburg, July 14, 1911
Easy Jim: I promised you some time ago to give you some items but had such a "glorious Fourth" I came very near forgetting there was such a place called Vineburg, and there's were I made a mistake.
Vineburg is still on the map and is going to stay there. Believe me.

Well "Easy," a friend of mine
the other day made me a present of a piece of cheese. My friend said it was "Choice Oregon cream cheese. Well, if Oregon cannot produce a better quality of cheese than that she better "cheese it."

I hear that the "faithful" correspondent of the "Expositor" has been granted a vacation. It is bout time after all the writing he has done in the last three years or more.

A San Francisco gentleman called on me the other day and wished to contract for our peach crop of course he bought his "nerve"
with him and politely informed me he had engaged all the finest peaches in this part of the valley.
Well, I hope not, for there is one peach already engaged and that is Your Friend Truly,
"Ethel Eastlake"
EASY JIM.

CORPORATIONS WILL PUT UP THE COIN.

They Must Pay into the State
Treasury Over Ten Million Dollars Toward Support
of State Government

The assessment rolls turned over to State Controller Nye by the State Board of Equalization last Monday show a total of $10,452,- 039.16, which will be paid into the State Treasury by corporations to run the Government for the next fiscal year. This is $75,000 more than was announced some time ago when the Board had completed the rolls but had not sat to listen to complaints.

Under the new law—framed under Tax Amendment No. 1 by the last Legislature—corporations are taxed according to the value of the stock, the amount of their receipts, and in accordance with the report as to the business acquired by the Board. The total, it is thought, will be sufficient to conduct the affairs of the State for the next year and there will be no need of an advalorem tax and a special session of the Legislature to get funds for the State. Here are the totals the several classes will have to pay:

Banks, $1,637,950.30; railroads,
$4,776,053.58; telephone and telegraph companies, $424,799.34; gas and electric companies, $1,224,691.- 94; car companies, $89,262.02; express companies, $102,352.70; insurance companies, $520,214.98;
and general franchise tax levied,
$1,676,715.

State Controller A. B. Nye has also announced the report of expenditures and receipts by the State for the fiscal year of 1909-10.

The receipts paid into the State Treasury June, 1911, $348,271.52;
disbursements, $1,260,868.32; total receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, $17,877,175.24; total disbursements for same period, $18,020,555.39. For 1909-10 the receipts were $18,487,881.72, and the disbursements, $18,753,720.31.
The balance on hand in the State Treasury June 30, 1910, was $9,898,- 149.69, and the amount on hand
June 30, 1911, was $6,759,985.66.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kind assistance and beautiful floral offerings given us during our late bereavement.

Particularly do we wish to thank
Mrs. Leix & Leix for their kind attention to our wife and mother during her long illness. We would also extend special thanks to Mrs.
and Miss Ives of Santa Rosa for the attention given our family before and after our bereavement over the loss of a dear wife and a loving mother.

To explain briefly regarding this S. V. water system, I was solicited by many of your citizens to put in water for fire pressure in the year 1896 and while I was a resident of Sacramento, all of which you know.

Finally, last year, I gave you one of the best fire systems at a cost of a large sum of money, not asking one dollar from your citizens, expecting to get pay for this protection, but now nearly a year after my pipes are filled and tested, proving satisfactory to the Pacific underwriters, that would make you a cash saving of from $1500 to $2500 per year in your insurance,
I have been unable to get one dollar from the city.

I have gone as far as I can and unless the city cuts itself off before that time I shall cut it off on the 1st of August, 1911. I am very sorry to take this step but circumstances compel me to do so.

Respectfully,

FOOLED HIM BADLY.
Now He Kicks on Letters Written in the Third Person.
In one of the Paris restaurants a party of literary men were discussing the merits of various epistolary styles. One of them, Monsieur A., made a fierce attack on letters written in the third person, such as "Monsieur X. has the honor to inform"—and so on. Another of the party defended them, maintaining that they were not only more ceremonious, but that they were more polite.
"That's a good idea," replied Monsieur A. "The foundation of all politeness in letter writing is to express clearly what you mean to say. Now, nothing can be more ambiguous than these confounded notes in the third person. I will just tell you what happened to myself. I received from my friend D., the chief of division, a billet doux, which I will show you."
Taking the note from his pocket, Monsieur A. read as follows:
"Monsieur D., chief of division at the war office, hastens to inform his friend, Monsieur A., that he has just been named chevalier of the Legion of Honor."
"You can fancy my delight at reading this note," continued Monsieur A. "I was the happiest man in the world. I ran to an engraver and ordered him to make the flatterer addition to my cards, 'Monsieur A., Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.' I ran to a mercer and bought a piece of the richest red ribbon for my buttonhole. I ran to the houses of my friends for the pleasure of receiving their congratulations. At last I ran to my friend D.'s. As soon as I caught sight of him I threw myself into his arms. 'Ah, my dear fellow,' I exclaimed, 'you have no idea what pleasure you have given. How shall I ever thank you sufficiently?' 'You are an excellent fellow, my worthy A., to sympathize thus with my happiness.' 'Thank you for that expression; the decoration is mine, and the happiness is yours.' 'How is that? Have you received the order?' 'Certainly, have I not?' 'No, my good friend; 'tis I who am now made chevalier.'
"You? 'Yes. You deserve the honor more than I do, but, nevertheless, it has been conferred on me.' 'But you wrote me word that I had received the cross.' I took his letter out of my pocket and showed it him. Alas! I now understood clearly what meaning I ought to assign to the ambiguous phrase. 'The deuce take you and your note,' I said to D. 'Instead of your affected and formal announcement in the third person, why could you not write to me simply and plainly, 'My dear friend, I have the pleasure of informing you that I now am decore chevalier?''"

Quakers Never "Nervous."
It is not in my memory that a professing Quaker ever came into my hands to be treated for nervousness. If the opinion I have already stated so often is correct, namely, that want of control of the emotions and the over-expression of the feelings are prime causes of nervousness, then the fact that discipline of the emotions is a lesson early and constantly taught by Friends would help to account for the infrequency of this disorder among them and add emphasis to the belief in such causation.—From "Self Help For Nervous Women," by Dr. Kearsley Mitchell.

A Remarkable Man.
John Ziska, the great Hussite leader of the fifteenth century, was one of the most remarkable men that ever lived. His life story reads like a romance. Nothing in history is more interesting, more thrilling, than the account of his heroic deeds. Though blind and always greatly outnumbered, Ziska invariably beat his enemies and established for himself a fame that will last forever. He was never beaten in a battle. His very name was a terror to his enemies. He died in 1424, while besieging Prazabslaw, at the age of sixty-four.—New York American.

Spoons.
The origin of the spoon is uncertain. It must have been invented at a very ancient date, for it is found among people that have never come into contact with civilization. The necessity of having some implement for dipping water seems to have led first to the invention of the calabash or the use of the coconut shell and later on to the spoon.

Didn't Know "the Uncle."
Aunt Jane—I guess Mr. Spender must be a very neat person. Edith—And what leads you to that opinion? Aunt Jane—He told your Uncle George all his clothes but those upon his back were hung up. Some men, you know, throw their things round anywhere.—Boston Transcript.

Mistook the Punctuation.
The Young Woman surprised and indignant—How dared you kiss me, sir? Patient Young Man—Why, you said you'd like to see me do it. The Young Woman—But you know as well as I do that I said it with an exclamation point at the end!—Chicago Tribune.

The Assent Sarcastic.
He (at the end of a fishing story)—My word, it was a monster!—Don't say that. I never saw such a fish in my life! She—I don't believe you ever did!—London Mail.

Riches are able to solder up an abundance of flaws.—Cervantes.
